

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

By MELVIN LORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22—(UP)—California's potential deficit of $79,000,000 at the end of the current biennium was not reduced by the people's refusal to pass the bond issue proposal at the special election August 13, according to state officials.

Action of the voters made a serious situation just that much more critical, and it appeared as sure it would be necessary for the proposed special session of the legislature to consider means of raising funds for badly needed construction at state institutions.

The $4,000,000 set up in the budget for capitol outlay admittedly is far from sufficient to relieve overcrowding at hospitals and prisons.

An improvement in economic conditions was seen in the substantial increase in the registration of motor vehicles in the state during the first six months of the year.

The registration for 1935 has amounted to 2,077,350, or 113,464 more than for the corresponding period in 1934.

At the same time, registration fees increased $422,217 for a total of $5,565,586.

The board of equalization faces the task of disposing of 10,000 bottles of confiscated liquor seized because of tax evasions or sale in unlicensed establishments. The law permits either its destruction or sale by means of public auction. The board asked Attorney General U. S. Webb how they could proceed with an auction sale.

Only two definite recommendations have come from the special senate civil service investigating committee after a series of hearings in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Sacramento. Members believe semi-annual efficiency ratings should be filed with the personnel board, and that departmental heads should investigate the "honesty and integrity" of employees before the expiration of their probationary work term.

A substantial increase in California's wool production this year is revealed in department of agriculture figures. Last year's production was estimated at 21,876,000 pounds, while the 1935 total was placed at 25,497,000 pounds. The average weight per fleece increased from 6.82 pounds to 7.3 pounds.

Board of Equalization members still had under consideration the vigorous protests of public utilities of California, all of which claimed that board assessments were in error and "far too high." The board had no records of protests that assessments, made prior to transfer of operative property to local tax rolls, were too low.

New Theatre Draws Large Crowds

The new Donner Theatre was opened on Wednesday night with the theatre filled to capacity for all performances. The entire Truckee-Tahoe region was well represented among the audience.

Tim O'Hanrahan gave a congratulatory speech to V. C. Shattuck, owner of the new theatre and expressed the appreciation of the people of the region in Mr. Shattuck's faith in the community to build such a modern and attractive theatre, and of what an asset it will be to the business community. The people who attended were pleasantly surprised at the attractiveness of the interior of the theatre and of the excellent sound equipment.

The theatre was attractively decorated with flowers sent by the various business establishments.

The theatre will continue to hold shows on Wednesday and Sunday nights.

RAILROAD OPENS ATTACK ON CAR LIMIT IN NEVADA

Southern Pacific Attorneys Contend Law Is In Restraint Of Trade

Testimony claiming that the train limit law of Nevada will add $50,000 monthly to the operating expenses of the Southern Pacific Railroad was made by company lawyers in their argument before Referee M. A. Diskin in Reno.

The railroad attorneys are trying to prove that the Nevada regulatory measure which they are fighting is unconstitutional and in restraint of trade. They stated that most of the business in Nevada handled by the Southern Pacific is interstate business and that a state law affecting it is unconstitutional.

Testimony in the case probably will take about two months. The state is basing its case on the grounds that the law is a safety measure to protect the lives of state railroad men. The railroad brotherhoods are supporting this contention.

Girl Makes Donner Lake Swim In Record Time

Miss Barbara Gordon, 18 year old Auburn girl on Sunday broke all previous records for swimming the length of Donner Lake.

While Miss Gordon is not the first woman to swim the lake, as a woman swam the lake following the shore line several years ago, she bettered the records of Dr. Walter Anderson and Captain Levy of the San Francisco Police Department whose time was 2 hours and 10 minutes.

Miss Gordon's time was 1 hour and 50 minutes for the three-mile course. At the finish she was in excellent condition according to Dr. W. M. Miller. She took off at 12:30 P. M. from the west end of the lake and reached the half way mark in remarkably fast time. Two boats accompanied the swimmer over the course.

Map of the Land II Duce Covets

This map of Ethiopia shows the wild terrain which, in case of war, the Italian army will have to master to conquer the loyal troops of Haile Selassie. Valuable deposits of minerals and oil are guarded by lofty mountains and dry, oven-like deserts, which in the rainy season become dripping and morass-like. Roads are few and there is but one railroad.

TAHOE WATER MAY BE PUMPED

Sufficient Flow May Be Allowed Nevadans to Maintain Fish Life.

Indications that permission may be granted by Lake Tahoe property owners for pumping of fifty second feet of water from the lake daily for domestic purposes was given by V. S. McClatchy, spokesman for many of the property owners at the lake.

Only sufficient water for sanitary purposes and to maintain fish life in the Truckee River will be permitted, it was indicated. McClatchy said he is confident the people he represents will consent to this, but that they will not consent to pumping for irrigation purposes.

Water officials here say a continuous flow of fifty-second feet will preserve fish life in the Truckee River and keep the channel in a sanitary condition as well as supply water for domestic purposes and stock watering. It is estimated this supply could be obtained with one pump and at a cost of less than $10,000 for a ninety-day period. It would not reduce the lake level more than one inch.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Albee Passes Away In Reno

Richard Albee, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Albee of Fallon, former Truckee residents, Mr. Albee being the owner of the Truckee Meat Market, passed away at a Reno hospital on Tuesday morning following a tonsil operation. He had not been in good health for some time and on Monday afternoon was operated on for the removal of his tonsils. Hemorrhages followed and he passed away on Tuesday morning. Besides his parents he leaves a brother Gordon and sister Raylan to grieve his passing.

Funeral services were held at the Ross Burke Funeral Home this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

TRUSTEES SEEK PLACE FOR CLASSES

School to Open September 2 With Suitable Quarters Yet to Be Found.

The trustees of the Truckee Grammar School are faced with the problem of finding suitable quarters for the classes of the grammar school scheduled to open on September 2nd.

The trustees had made arrangements for the classes to be held in the Dan Smith residence on West Main Street but there has been so much adverse criticism by the parents of the children that the residence was not suitable that the trustees have decided that the classes will not be held there. They are now asking for suggestions as to what arrangements can be made to find a suitable building.

When the old grammar school building was abandoned last April after it was condemned as unsafe by an inspector from the state department of public works, arrangements were made to hold the upper classes in the winter sports pavilion and the primary grades were held in the Bimbo residence on Church Street. The fact that the winter sports pavilion would not be available after December and that the quarters on Church Street were too crowded led the trustees to look for other quarters where they could continue school until the new building was built. The Smith residence seemed to be the only place available where all the classes could be held. With the decision not to hold the school in this location, the trustees are faced with the problem of finding another building or buildings where the classes can be held.

WILL OF LATE BERTHA HOPE WILL BE CONTESTED

A contest of the will of the late Bertha Hope, who died April 13, 1935 and asking revocation of the probate of the document alleged to be her last will and which was admitted to probate on May 3, 1935, has been filed in the Superior Court by W. E. Wright as attorney for Edith I. Fay.

The contestant alleges that the instrument admitted to probate was not the last will and testament of Mrs. Hope but that she had duly executed a last will and testament of the 10th day of July, 1933, which was duly published and declared by her in her life time to be her last will and testament.

That at the time of the execution of said will she was of sound and disposing mind and memory and competent to make a will.

Contestant avers that the will executed on July 10, 1933, designated her as executor and bequeathed all the rest, residue and remainder of her property to the contestant and all monies which she had at the time of her death deposited in any and all banks.

It is further alleged: "That the will which has been admitted to probate is not the last will of Mrs. Hope; that at the time it was executed she was not of sound and disposing mind and memory, and was not competent to make a will and she was not at the time of its execution free from duress, fraud, menace and undue influence."

The contestant avers that at the time of the execution of the will of February 28, Mrs. Hope was aged 73 years and was a constant and intemperate user of narcotics and that for some years prior to her death she had lived with the Polyanichs and that she had been dependent on them for advice and A. D. Polyanich had been acting as her confidential adviser.

The estate involved is valued at about $15,000.

SERA PROJECT CLOSES TONIGHT

Shortage of Funds Stops All Projects.

Richard Maddox newly appointed SERA director of the Nevada, Placer and Sierra Counties was in town on Monday checking over the payroll of the local SERA project and notifying those in charge that all work will stop on Thursday night.

This order follows a notice received by all county relief directors from State Administrator Frank Y. McLaughlin which commanded a complete cessation of work projects. "A new financial crisis" was given as the cause of the shutdown order, which will immediately shift 107,000 workers back to direct relief, and eliminate the 15 per cent additional payments earned on work relief projects.

The SERA recently weathered a financial drought caused by loss of $2,000,000 in transit from Washington.

"We have exhausted the $2,000,000 made available August 1 from the California unemployment fund," said McLaughlin.

"We will likewise have exhausted by Thursday the $10,000,000 which the Federal Government has so far provided this month."

"As I see it, there is no possibility for more SERA money from the Government this month. We have a plan for handling the situation and we will know soon whether it will work out."

The return to work of those who have been employed on the SERA projects will depend on the speed with which Washington authorities approve the more than 1,000 WPA projects submitted for review. Six months will elapse before all projects are acted on, officials believe.

WPA Project Secures Approval

The WPA ice palace project has been drawn for submission by the WPA engineers and has received the approval of the Truckee Public Utility District who are sponsors of the work on the ice palace.

The total cost of the project is $15,815 which consists of excavating for the foundation of the masonry walls around the ice rink and the construction of the rock wall and also placing of the concrete over the surface of the rink proper.

The project calls for federal aid to the extent of $11,715 and the sponsors' contributions will amount to $4,100.

This project is a continuation of the work that has been carried on during the past few months under the SERA.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Voltz of Auburn were visitors in town on Wednesday.

RESETTLEMENT BOSS

Mrs. Thomas Beck, wife of a publishing company executive, has the distinction of being the only woman among the 11 directors of the government's program of rural resettlement. She is director for region No. 1, which includes all New York state and Pennsylvania as well as New Jersey, Delaware, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine. Her work will be to aid agriculturists to move to more fertile areas as the government takes over sub-standard land from production. Struggling farm families will be helped to rehabilitate themselves on land they own.

COMMENTS FROM CALIFORNIA NEWSPAPERS

By United Press

EDITORS BELIEVE IN ROOSEVELT

Despite the Democratic upset in Rhode Island, California editors generally, incline to the belief President Roosevelt will be re-elected in 1936.

The result, however, was viewed as providing stronger ground for Republican optimism than for Democratic indifference.

"President Roosevelt," said the Redding Currier Free Press, "faces a warning that the Rhode Island democratic party will lead a break away from the New Deal unless he changes his 'radical course'. The uniformity of the republican landslide in districts of all descriptions, residential and laboring, rural and urban, farming and industrial, suggested the same 'something in the air'—the same sense of protest—which brought on the Roosevelt landslide three years ago.

That the vote has any special value as a national barometer, the Fullerton News-Tribune considers "a rash assumption. Rhode Island in the last two elections was abnormal. There are few political barometers which can be relied upon with any certainty. One congressional district is hardly a wide enough cross section to furnish a real picture of popular feeling. So long as the administration's opponents have had but few chances to smile in recent years they may be entitled to make the most of what happened in Little Rhody."

There is bound to be political speculation over the result, points out the Watsonville Register, adding: "Especially as to how much the 'soak the rich' and 'death sentence' to holding companies had to do with it. Perhaps many men who are small at present feel that they have it within themselves to be bigger some day—to get ahead in business."

"What happened in Rhode Island is explained, we believe," remarks the San Francisco News, "by a state of mind that is growing in this country. That state of mind is a combination of confusion and impatience; about multiple and complex social and economic reforms; impatience for the solid fruit of recovery. The big danger to the New Deal is the danger that followed the idealism of Wilson; the danger of a sudden psychological wave such as brought on Harding and 'back to normalcy'; the reaction of a nation wearied of new things and yearning for the 'good old days.' God forbid that such should repeat."

The conservatives, according to the Santa Monica Evening Outlook, "may take heart from the Rhode Island straw in the wind, but they still have to find a leader and write a platform. The leader must be able to rally all the conservatives in the country, democrats as well as republicans, while appealing to those liberals who still believe that liberalism does not mean socialism or spending our way into certain inflation. Nothing less than this combination of real leader and constructive program, drawing strength from both parties, will defeat Roosevelt next year."

"In trying to appraise the Rhode Island vote accurately," concludes the Long Beach Press Telegram, "it is well to bear in mind that the state's greatest industry is the textile industry, which now is in distress and resentful of the processing tax collected from cotton mills and paid to cotton farmers of the south. The outstanding thing, however, is that the Republican victory was too sweeping to be attributed to any one cause. There has been a revulsion of popular feeling. The decisive question, as the country prepares for the next presidential election, is how extensive that revulsion has been and will be by November, 1936."

A FRIEND IS DEAD

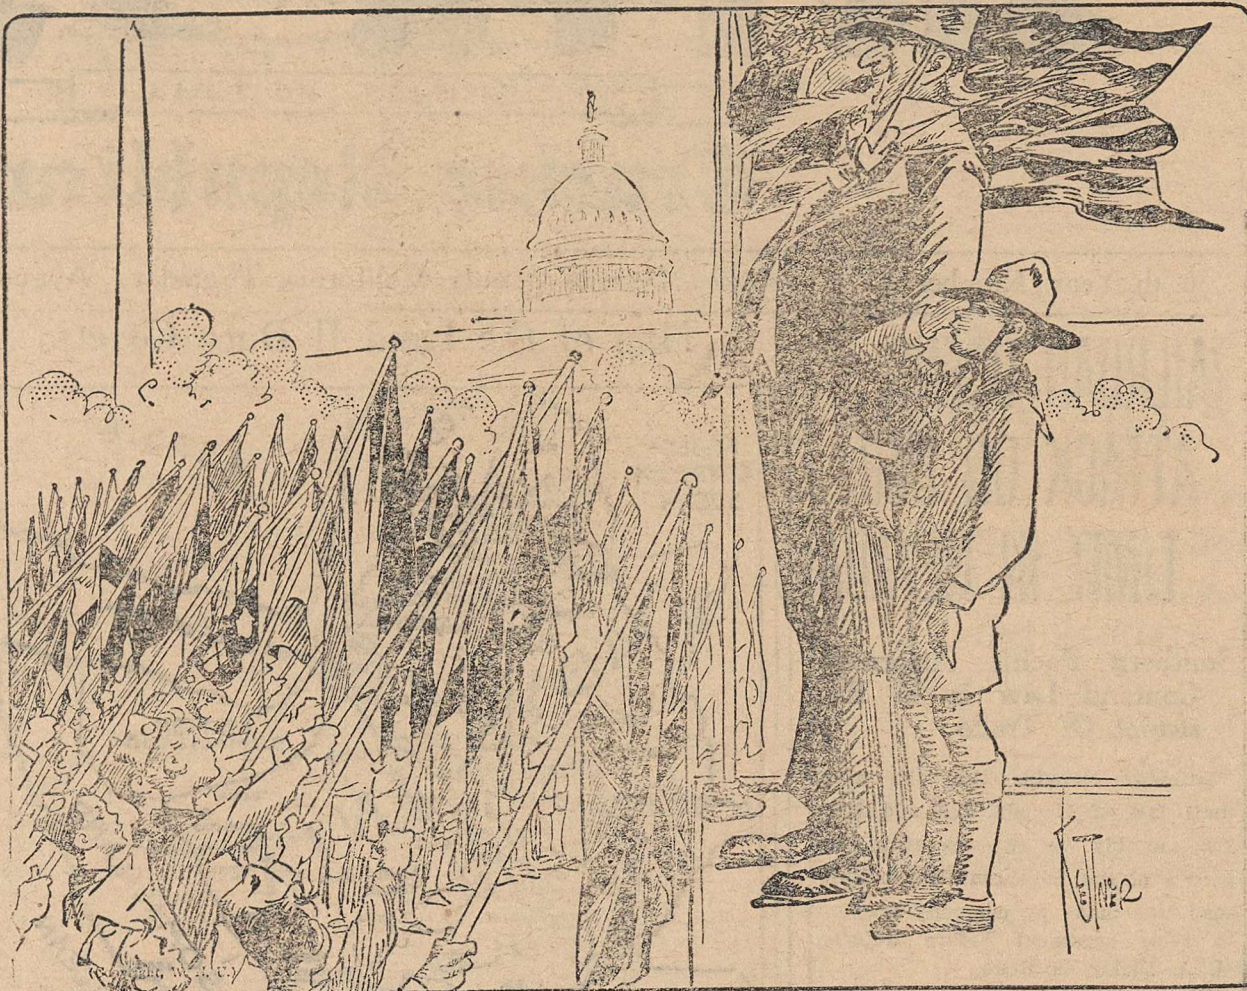

It is difficult to get used to the idea that Will Rogers is no longer around. But slowly—several days now since his death in the Arctic plane crash, realization is dawning on the nation that the man who once seemed to be everywhere, a person the nation loved, is now nowhere.

In one respect Rogers' passing was a national calamity. His gentle fun-poking added something to the whole tenor of the national life—kept its sense of humor alive and took some of the sting out of the grimmer aspects of reality, kept bigotry and too much pride and stiff formality out of the national thought, and kept us laughing about things we might otherwise have been inclined to cry about.

But the real loss is felt in no such abstract social way. Scarcely a person first heard of Will Rogers' death without a sort of prickly feeling about the heart, as they would at the passing of a friend.

And this, really, is the greatest tribute to Will Rogers—

the greatest tribute any man could ever hope for. It is a tribute to the humor, the homely wisdom and humanness and humble loving kindness of him.

Politically Speaking

By GEORGE E. HELMER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22—(UP)—Two tax measures which the legislature took special pains to enact will undoubtedly be delayed by referendum until the general election of 1936.

They are the chain store and the oleomargarine taxes which were to have gone into effect September 15 had no effort been made to hold them up by referendum.

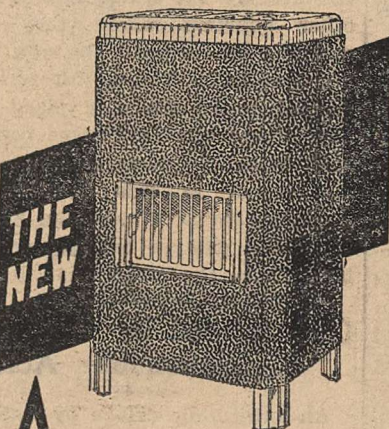

Already, petitions bearing 80,000 signatures each have been filed in Los Angeles. Others are being circulated elsewhere, and only 116,000 signatures of bona fide voters are required to qualify a referendum.

Officials in the secretary of state's office said it would be a cinch for opponents of the two tax measures to obtain 116,000 signatures and qualify the referendum here before midnight of September 14.

That will delay final enactment of the tax bills until the next general election, when the people themselves will be given an opportunity to say whether they wish chain stores and oleomargarine taxed. Should the proposals be defeated at the election, they would be wiped off the books.

The chain store tax would levy an assessment on multiple unit stores, ranging from $1 for the first store to $500 for the 10th and each above 10. Gasoline service stations, theatres, ice service stations, barber and beauty shops would be exempt, but the tax would apply to grocery, drug, automobile supply and all other types of chain organizations.

Legislators openly fought for it as a revenue producing measure, but privately admitted it was actually an attempt to aid independent merchants by taxing their competitors.

State officials predicted the period intervening before the general election will witness the operation of one of the most powerful campaigns seen in California. Housewives will be given frequent reminders that the price of food they purchase in chain grocery stores, and of drugs obtained in multiple unit drug stores will rise if the tax is approved.

With talk of a recall dying in Los Angeles, where it started, it remained for the most isolated town in the state to revive it momentarily.

When election ballots were examined in Alturas, far off in the Northeast corner of California, the night of the special election, 14 ballots were found to have expressed displeasure with the Merriam administration.

Written at the bottom of the ballots was the line:

"For the recall of Governor Merriam—X"

Suspicion that someone engineered the stunt was aroused by a second line, reading:

Will Rogers, known to the public as 'the Governor at large', received during the dedication ceremonies at Governor's grove at the Tavern several years ago, a little tree bearing his name upon a plaque. Today that little tree is draped with a black ribbon in respect to its owner, who made a humorous speech at the time of its presentation before a large crowd. Will is the third governor to have passed on since that ceremony, Governor Rolph, and Governor Blazer the other two whose trees will commemorate their memory in years to come. Rogers made many friends in this vicinity during the filming of 'Lightning' some years ago, and will be missed by his part of the grief shocked world who even yet, can't seem to believe the terrible tragedy has really happened.

A group of advance scouts from Metro-Goldwyn-Meyer were reported looking about for possible location scenes for a new film to be shot in this territory. The picture will be Victor Herbert's 'Rose Marie.' Nelson Eddy and Kathleen MacDonald are reported to be slated for the leading roles.

Fishermen of the region are being heard to sigh louder and louder, daily, as the streams continue to dry up faster and faster. Blackwood in places is reported to be nearly dry for a mile or more.

'Unfinished Symphony' will be the feature picture shown at the Tahoe Tavern Casino on August 27th at 2:30 P. M. for the benefit of the Catholic Parish.

The main office building of the Tahoe Telephone Exchange was robbed on Monday night about 9 o'clock while Mrs. Opal Von Luvon was on duty and Mrs. Fea, a relief operator read in the living room. The intruder made his way in through a rear window and looted the girls' purses of between four and five dollars. Mrs. Fea glancing up from her book caught a glimpse of the man's figure passing from one room to the other and called to Mrs. Van Luvon. She notified Officers McKee, Bechdolt and Castle who made a complete survey of the property but were unable to find any trace of the thief.

A prowler was also seen in the vicinity of Tahoe Pines one night this week and is believed the same man who made his way into a home there but who was frightened away by members of the family before anything could be taken.

Acme Brewery Leads In State's Production

The largest single month's production of beer since Prohibition by any California brewery was achieved by the Acme Brewery in July with an output of 935,246 gallons. According to figures released by the California Board of Equalization, the California brewing industry, as a whole, achieved the largest month's production total since repeal with the fourteen major breweries' output totalling 5,896,931 gallons as contrasted with 5,355,048 gallons in 1934.

However, one-third of the total gain of the industry was represented by the gain in the production of Acme Beer which beverage is in the lead for the year 1935, as well as for the two preceding years.

Karl F. Schuster, President of the Acme Brewery, stated that he accredits a good part of the leadership of Acme Beer to the consistent newspaper advertising which has been employed ever since beer was legalized. Schuster stated "that in order to attain leadership in the brewing industry today, it's not alone sufficient to manufacture a superior product, but that the public must be constantly reminded." He stated "that, based on results achieved, newspaper advertising was a powerful and economical medium to create brand favoritism."

Substantial Increases In State's Field Crops

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22—(UP)—Substantial increases in the production of 12 of California's 16 major field crops during 1935 have been forecast by the federal state crop reporting service.

Origin and Meaning Of Names of Counties

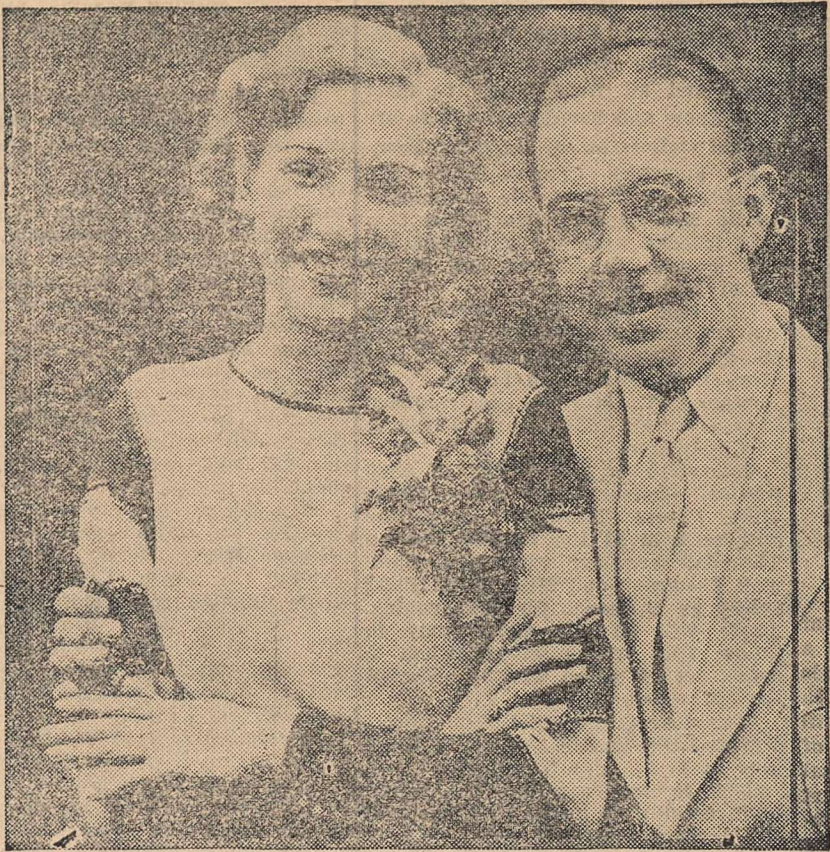

The story of how California counties derived their names is an interesting part of the history of the Golden State. Believing that the thousands of tourists who annually motor over the state's great highway system would like to know how the counties they visit came by their names, Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly, at the request of Governor Frank F. Merriam has had prepared from state records a series of brief stories of the origin and meaning of the names of the counties of California including a few salient facts about each county. Following are the first articles of the series. Editor.

ALAMEDA COUNTY — Created March 25, 1853. The Spanish word "Alameda" means "a public walk or promenade in the shade of trees." Literally, it comes from Alamo, the poplar or cottonwood tree, and it is from the derived meaning of the word, "a public walk," that this county obtained its name.

Long before the white man came to California an estimated 300,000 Indians divided into numerous tribes inhabited the larger valleys of the state. Later came the missions and the great ranchos. Alameda, county with scattered bands of Indians, huge haciendas, thousands of cattle and horses, and Mission San Jose, presented a true picture of California during the era of the sailing vessel. Famed for its agricultural wealth, Alameda produces huge crops of fruits and nuts, hay grain and vegetables and is noted for its live stock products. Population: 474,883. Area 732 square miles.

ALPINE COUNTY—Created March 16, 1864. This county derived its name from the English word "Alpine," meaning, "of, pertaining to, or connected with the Alps." Its geographical position, lying as it does on the crest of the Sierra Nevada Mountains, made it particularly an alpine county, and hence its name.

Embracing large areas of primeval mountain and forest, Alpine is a land for tourists, the rancher, the mineralogist, the artist, and a paradise for the lover of California outdoors. For many years, Alpine was isolated from the rest of the state, no road to this little gem of the Sierras being maintained. Now several state highways lead to it and the development of its mineral, timber and water resources is bound to come. Population: 241. Area: 776 square miles.

AMADOR COUNTY—Created May

11, 1854. The meaning of this word in Spanish is "lover of inanimate objects." This county most probably derived its name from either Sergeant Pedro Amador or from Jose Maria Amador, his son. Sergeant Pedro Amador was one of the prominent settlers of California. He was an adventurer and a soldier in the Spanish army, coming to California in 1771, and after serving in San Diego and Santa Barbara was transferred to San Francisco. He died in San Jose April 10, 1824, at the age of 82 years. His son, Jose Maria, was born in San Francisco on December 18, 1794, and was also a soldier and a renowned Indian fighter. He obtained a large grant from the Mexican government, and after the discovery of gold forsook pastoral pursuits and went to the Southern mines on the Mother Lode, where he greatly increased his fortune.

The county of Amador is known as the land of romance and gold. The "Heart of the Mother Lode," it once was the home of Captain Webster, Captain John A. Sutter, Kit Carson, Mark Twain and Brete Harte. The county contains the most extensive quartz deposits to be found on the western slope of the Sierra. Near Jackson, two mines are over a mile deep. Of $610,000,000 in gold produced in the Mother Lode counties, Amador has given $265,000,000. In addition to gold mining, cattle ranches, dairy farms and fruit orchards this county is one of the most interesting fields of research in California for geologists and mining experts. Splendid state highways lead to all points of historic interest in Amador and to the sites of two of the largest reservoirs in the state. Population 8,494. Area: 601 square miles.

Next: Butte and Calaveras counties. Editor.

FORD STARTS NEW PLANT AT NORTHVILLE, MICH.

Ground is being broken by the Ford Motor Co. at Northville, Mich., for a new plant to replace the present Ford factory in that city, in which all valves used in Ford cars and trucks are made.

The new factory, designed by Albert Kahn, Detroit architect, will be a one-story structure of steel and brick, 200 ft. long by 100 ft. wide, with a half basement to house the power plant, set in landscaped grounds near the site of the present factory, which, on the completion of the new one, about the first of the year will be dismantled and razed. Approximately 200 men will be employed, the number at present working at Northville.

Decorative features of the new layout will be an artificial lake formed by the damming of the River Rouge just above the Seven Mile Road in Northville, and an overshot wheel, operated by water piped from the head of Yerkes's Pond.

This waterwheel likewise will be part of the power equipment of the plant, but only a minor part since the River Rouge at this point has insufficient power and the new valve factory at Northville is the oldest of the so-called Ford "valve industries." It began operations in 1920 and to date has produced more than 163,000,000 valves—50,000,000 for the V-8 type motors alone. The valves are of alloy, cast at the Rouge plant and finished at Northville.

With the completion of the new Northville valve plant, the number of Henry Ford's little industries along the River Rouge, all completely modern and all set in beautifully landscaped grounds, will be six. The others are at Plymouth (taps and dies), Waterford (gages), Phoenix (generator cut-outs and switches), Nankin Mills (screw machine parts) and Newburg, where a new air-conditioned factory for the manufacture of drills is about to begin operations. Other factories in the Ford "little industries" chain are on the Huron River notably the generator and starter plant at Ypsilanti where 1,000 men and women are employed, and the lamp factory at Flat Rock, in which approximately the same number of employees produce all headlamps, taillights and domelights used in the Ford industry.

State Fair Will Make Mail Order Scrip Sales

Visitors who are planning to come on any of the ten days of the California State Fair which opens in Sacramento on August 31 can do their half-price ticket shopping by mail this year.

During the fair, the regular fifty cent admission will be charged for the principal attractions, but in advance of the opening, scrip books will be sold which contain the equivalent of ten admissions for twenty-five cents each.

Visitors which do not have access to the Future Farmers, 4-H Clubs or metropolitan department stores which are aiding in the advance sale can secure their half-price tickets by writing directly to the scrip department at the state fair grounds in Sacramento.

The privilege of purchasing half price admissions will be withdrawn throughout the state on Friday August 30, but will be continued at the state fair gates through the opening day, Saturday, August 31, only.

The scrip tickets are good for admission to the grounds, grand stand, horseshow and parking areas and are also transferable.

Fair officials estimate that over $80,000 has been saved in the past two years by those who have done their ticket shopping early.

REPORT SHOWS BIG DECREASE IN CRIME

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22—(UP)—Crime throughout California showed a drop of almost 20 per cent during the first seven months of 1935 compared with the corresponding period of 1934, according to a report prepared by the state bureau of criminal identification.

Bureau officials reported that felonies committed between January and July, inclusive, totaled 18,348.

Last year, during the same period, the felonies numbered 20,079.

The continued decrease in crime, not including homicides, is part of the trend started several years ago, according to bureau records.

Reports of murder and manslaughter cases are not complete enough to permit accurate comparisons, officials said.

HOP GROWERS FACE HEAVY SEASON LOSS

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22—(UP)—Unless a heavy foreign demand develops soon, California hop growers will face a loss on this year's crop. Irving S. Marks, secretary of the Sacramento Valley Hop Growers association, announced here.

Marks estimated the 1935 crop in the Sacramento valley would total 27,000 bales. Despite the fact this represented a 10 per cent reduction in production compared with 1934, Marks believed the valley farmers' income would be considerably less than the $1,500,000 netted from last year's crop.

He blamed lack of foreign demand and surplus of 30,000 bales held over from the 1934 crop for the expected drop in income.

Defective Lights on 20 Per Cent of Motor Vehicles

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22—(UP)—Twenty per cent of the motor vehicles operated in California carry defective lights, E. Raymond Cato, chief of the state highway patrol, reported in reviewing results of the traffic division's readlight campaign.

During the first six months of this year, the report said, more than 135,000 motorists were stopped by highway officers because of light violations. Non-arrest citations requiring corrections be made were issued to 61,876 drivers, while 70,766 others were warned to have adjustments made.

Only 3,630 persons were arrested for failure to comply with the headlight regulations.

Annual Bass Derby To Attract Fishermen

RIO VISTA, Aug. 22—(UP)— Approximately 15,000 persons are expected to attend the third annual Rio Vista bass derby, to be held here September 8.

To qualify for entry in the contest, anglers must catch a striped bass of legal size in the Sacramento river and register at an official derby office. Prizes ranging from a cabin cruiser to fishing tackle will be awarded the winners.

While there is no restriction on the portion of the river from which the qualifying catch must be made, fishing on derby day will be confined to a course in the vicinity of this city.

Decreased Butter Production Results in Higher Prices

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22—(UP)—Decreased butter production in western states has resulted in higher prices than any other area in the United States and attracted shipments to the Pacific Coast from throughout the country, according to a federal-state market report.

"Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ." These words from I Corinthians comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, August 25, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Mind." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God-how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen" (Rom. 11: 33, 34, 36.)

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Mind is God. We can have but one Mind, if that one is infinite. If God were limited to man or matter, or if the infinite could be circumscribed within the finite, God would be corporeal, and unlimited Mind would seem to spring from a limited body; but this is an impossibility" (pp. 469, 284).

of the personnel board and the director of the department in which the position is to be filled.

It is possible for a person to be ranked 40th or so on the list based on the written examination, and be moved to the top as a result of the oral test. Or exactly the opposite may occur.

The fundamental reason for the oral test is to determine the applicant's physical appearance, personality, ability to talk and to handle people. There is a possibility, however, that personal feelings may enter into the arrangement. The department director might wish to lift a political pal out of 40th position and put him at the top so he could be appointed to the position in question. Or if the No. 1 person in the written examination list was recognized as a political foe, or as having done nothing to help the person in power, or had no influential friends, he might be reduced far in the list of eligibles as a result of the oral test.

Final status of E. Raymond Cato and Russell Bevans in the state department of motor vehicles remained in doubt as a result of Director E. Ray Ingels' maneuver which prevented both of them from sliding into permanent civil service rating August 20.

Had they been left alone, they would have moved into lifetime jobs as highway patrol chief and registrar of motor vehicles, respectively.

But Ingels placed Cato in the one exempt position permitted in each department, and named Bevans deputy director. Cato will serve at the pleasure of the director, and a civil service examination will be given soon to choose a man for the registrar's position.

Bevans will take that examination, and if he lands among the first three at the top of the list, he may get his old job back—unless Ingels prefers one of the other two candidates.

Meanwhile, Bevans' job as deputy director is unprotected, because Ingels said he did not intend to continue that position longer than six months. Under the civil service act, the position must be abolished before the six months elapse.

As a result of Ingels' surprise move, neither man is much safer than he was a few days earlier, when rumors were flying around to the effect one or both faced removal. Ingels may oust them any time he desires, unless Bevans later wins the civil service appointment to his old job.

Ingels elected to make the exempt position that of highway patrol chief "for the good of the service."

Ralph Giordano, known in the sports world as Young Corbett III, was placed in the layoff list because Ingels believed $200 a month was too much to pay a physical instructor who worked only an hour a day teaching highway patrolmen how to exercise and keep fit.

"I think I could get a good man for $50," Ingels said.

Governor Merriam's veto of the tideland oil bill which would have given the Standard Oil company a virtual monopoly at Huntington Beach was an important factor in stopping a threatened recall movement, according to politicians.

Rumors reaching the capital intimated that independent oil producers were ready to pour $125,000 into the recall fund if the bill was signed.

Practically recall talk died shortly after the legislature adjourned.

Rural good roads enthusiasts are beginning to realize the significance of the legislative bill which doubled the amount of gasoline tax money paid to the cities. The department of public works is being flooded with protests because certain county projects have been abandoned and work on others has slowed down.

The extra amount for cities was taken from the highway division's share of the gasoline tax. Consequently, the state highway budget was trimmed $5,000,000.

This loss will be reflected in many parts of the state where contemplated road work must be postponed or delayed. At the time the subject was discussed, no one seemed to think of that angle. They stressed the fact that cities contribute most of the tax and should get a bigger share than one-fourth cent of each three cents; that the state highway system now is in good condition; that cities sacrificed their share for many years and now should be "given a break."

Rural senators who voted for the bill defend their action by saying: "We did it to prevent cities from getting even a bigger share by use of the ballot." Cities now receive one-half cent, counties one cent, and the state one and one-half cents from the tax.

It may not be exactly true that you can go out in Kansas in the hot days of August and listen to the corn growing, but you can walk past any grocery store or butcher shop these days and be almost deafened by the queer, buzzing, jumping sounds you hear inside. That's the prices going up.

PYTHIAN PICNIC SUNDAY AT LAKE

On Sunday next August 25th, the members of all Pythian Subordinate Lodges and Temples of Pythian Sisters of Nevada and Eastern and Northern California and their friends will assemble at Meeks Bay, on the shores of Lake Tahoe, to hold their Third Annual Interstate Basket Picnic and Sport Events.

A program of field events has been arranged by the committee in charge, cooperated in by the D. O. K. K. branch of the Pythian Order, many of the competitions being open to the public, for which cash prizes will be awarded to the successful competitors.

Considerable interest is being shown by local members in the interstate events, and especially in the rowing and relay races. The Nevada-California tug-of-war between teams composed of twenty of the bravest members on each side will furnish plenty of excitement.

The field events will start promptly at 2 o'clock P. M., and all desiring to enter the contests should contact the committee in charge previous to that hour.

Supreme Representative Clark J. Guild, Grand Vice Chancellor Jay H. White and Deputy Grand Chancellor of California, William M. Englehart, have been selected as judges, Grand Chancellor Montrose as starter and Melvin E. Jopson, handicapper.

The general committee of arrangements is composed of Wm. P. Thrall and W. T. Aust of Nevada, and W. M. Englehart of California.

Roosevelt Plans Radio Address Saturday

President Roosevelt will go on the air at 6 P. M. Pacific Coast Time, Saturday, in a national address to the Young Democratic Clubs of America in Milwaukee.

The president, who will speak from his study in the White House, will be introduced from Milwaukee by Cliff Woodward, head of the Young Democrats. Roosevelt's remarks will be carried on a national hookup.

Some time ago Roosevelt made tentative plans to journey to Milwaukee and address the Young Democrats in person but those arrangements had to be cancelled because of the lateness of congress in completing its program.

Young Democrats To Hold Mass Meeting

To pay tribute to the progressive leadership of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Alameda County New Deal supporters will hold a mass meeting on Thursday night, August 22nd, at 8 p. m., in the Oakland auditorium theatre.

NOTICE

The trustees of the Truckee Grammar School wish to ask that anyone who knows of a place that is suitable to hold the classes of the Grammar School until the new school building is erected immediately get in touch with the clerk of the board, Mrs. Dan Smith, phone 120.

Due to the fact that Dan Smith has withdrawn his consent to rent his residence on West Main Street to the Truckee School District, the trustees must look for other quarters.

The trustees wish to state that the only reason it was decided to use the Smith residence was that it appeared to be the only place they could find which was large enough for all classes and was centrally located.

The trustees will announce later when suitable quarters are secured for the grammar school when school will open.
